You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand

What is this product?

Type: An Over the Counter (OTC) contract - Foreign Exchange Instrument

Objective:

The objective of this product is to manage adverse movements in currency rates that you may experience. Note that it may not provide you with complete protection against such exposures.

The Forward Rate will be dependent upon your choice of currency pair (as defined below) and Settlement Date. It will be calculated from the foreign currency exchange rate (FX Spot Rate) and adjusted by the appropriate Forward Points (as defined below).

Sample Parameters are set out below for the sale of GBP and purchase of EUR:

Currency Pair	GBP/EUR	Ref FX Spot Rate	1.1537
Currency Amount	EUR 10,000	Forward Points	-0.0369
Settlement Date	1 Year	Forward Rate	1.1168

The product achieves its objectives as follows:

- At the settlement date, you will purchase currency at the forward rate, independent of the spot rate.

Intended Retail Investor:

This product is intended for retail investors with a short to medium time horizon who:

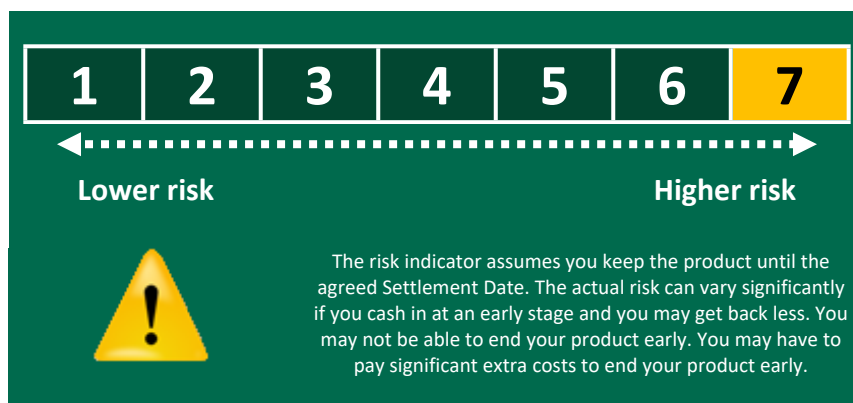

- (i) Have sufficient knowledge or experience with complex financial products; and
- (ii) Have exposure to the relevant foreign currency and want a level of protection against adverse movements in foreign currency exchange rates.

Term:

The term of the FX Forward will depend on how long you wish to protect against adverse movements in foreign currency exchange rates and will be agreed with you before you enter into the product. The product is a bilateral agreement that cannot ordinarily be terminated unilaterally by either you or Lloyds Bank, unless certain events of default or other termination events occur. In this case early termination payments may apply, and you may incur significant losses.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator:

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very high level. Be aware of currency risk. Where you receive payments in a different currency the final return you get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not reflected in the indicator shown above. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could incur significant losses. If we are not able to pay you what is owed you could incur significant losses.

Investment Performance Information

a) Factors likely to affect future returns

The factors affecting returns will also affect the product's performance. For this product, the Spot rate of the currency pair is the only factor affecting return. Your return will vary depending on how the Spot rate performs against the Forward rate

b) Most relevant Index

The most relevant index is the underlying currency pair Spot rate of the FX Forward. On maturity of the contract, the Spot rate directly affects the performance and the expected range of returns of the FX Forward.

c) What could affect my return positively?

At the settlement date, if the currency you are purchasing strengthens against the currency you are selling, then you will purchase currency at the forward rate, costing you less compared to the prevailing Spot rate. This means your return will be higher.

d) What could affect my return negatively?

At the settlement date, if the currency you are purchasing weakens against the currency you are selling, then you must purchase currency at the Forward rate that will, cost you more compared to the prevailing Spot rate. This means your return will be lower.

e) Performance in severely adverse market conditions

Foreign Exchange rates can be zero. Should this happen, you would pay for currency under the contract that would be valued at zero at the date of settlement. i.e. you would lose your investment.

What happens if Lloyds Bank plc. is unable to pay out?

You may be exposed to a risk that Lloyds Bank might be unable to fulfil its obligations in respect of the FX Forward. The product is not protected by any local investor compensation or guarantee scheme. This means that if Lloyds Bank is unable to pay out, you may not receive any amount from Lloyds Bank under the product.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the performance of the product. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, over the recommended holding period. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume a nominal value of EUR 10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

How long should I hold it and can I take it out early?

Recommended holding period: This product is designed to be held to the agreed Settlement Date in order to match your investment requirement. It is a product designed to be entered into for its term and cannot be easily sold. Early termination may occur if certain events of default or other termination events occur, in which case early termination payments may apply.

Early exit impact: If the product is terminated early, in whole or in part, an Early Termination Payment may become payable by either you or Lloyds Bank. The Early Termination Payment is linked to market parameters and could be a substantial loss or gain to you. Settlement on early termination will be specific to your FX Forward and will be influenced by a number of factors which include but are not limited to: whether it is an increasing or decreasing foreign exchange rate environment; the movement of the FX Spot Rate since the transaction Trade Date; the amount affected by the early termination.

The Early Termination Payment is not a penalty charge. The sum represents the economic value of what Lloyds Bank would have paid or received if the product continued as agreed. Depending on market conditions at the time of the early termination, the settlement calculated could result in a substantial amount being due from you to Lloyds Bank.
